

NEED A DRIVING LICENCE...?

Category B – passenger cars

Watch the Swedish-language film Vägen till körkort ('Getting a driving licence') by visiting www.korkortsportalen.se

Applying for a provisional driving licence

Apply via www.korkortsportalen.se or phone 0771-81 81 81.

Studying the theory while learning to drive

- Once you have a provisional licence you can start learning to drive at age 16.
- If you choose private tuition you must be supervised by an approved driving instructor. You and your instructor must attend the introductory training course together.
- The best way to learn is by studying the theory while learning to drive.
- The curriculum and an introduction to the test can be found at www.korkortsportalen.se

Attending hazard training

Hazard training is mandatory and comprises two parts:

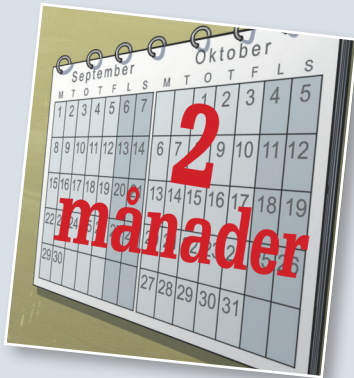

- Part 1 is about alcohol, other drugs, tiredness and hazardous behaviour in general.
- Part 2 is about speed, safety and driving in special conditions.

Both parts of the hazard training must be carried out and valid before the theory and practical tests are taken.

Booking a combined category B licence test

- You make a single booking for both the theory and practical tests.
- You can book your test at www.korkortsportalen.se. You can also make a booking by phoning Swedish Road Administration customer services on 0771-17 18 19.
- If you are learning to drive through a driving school, the school can make a booking for you.
- First-time test takers have priority.

If you do not pass your test

If you do not pass one of the tests, we offer a re-test within a two-month validity period. This is on condition that both tests are taken within two weeks of each other and that you book a re-test no later than three days after taking the driving licence tests.

Taking the theory and driving tests!

- Both the theory and practical tests may be taken on the same day. If you take both tests within two weeks of each other you have the option of doing a re-test, if necessary, within two months.
- The theory test must always be taken first.
- The practical test is taken afterwards, even if you do not pass the theory test.
- Once you have passed your theory test it remains valid for two months. If it expires you will have to pay the fee and take both tests again. You make one booking for both tests.

You passed your test

YOU HAVE A DRIVING LICENCE!

You will receive your driving licence within five days.

COME WELL PREPARED! KEEP THEORY AND PRACTICE TOGETHER!
